Man Charged with Killing Uber Driver in DUI Crash

A 23-year-old man has been charged with murder for allegedly crashing into an Uber driver in South Los Angeles while under the influence of alcohol, the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office announced.

Kevin Moran (dob 1/19/93) of Los Angeles faces one count each of murder and hit and run driving resulting in death to another person in case BA453703.

The defendant pleaded not guilty yesterday and is scheduled to return on Jan. 31 to Department 37 of the Foltz Criminal Justice Center.

On Jan. 14, Moran is alleged to have been driving while under the influence at a high rate of speed before crossing a red light at the intersection of Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard and Arlington Avenue, prosecutors said. Moran's vehicle allegedly crashed into an Uber vehicle, killing the driver of that vehicle, Folesha Parker-Iverson, 52, prosecutors added.

The defendant faces a possible maximum sentence of 26 years to life in state prison if convicted as charged. Bail is recommended at more than $2 million.

The case remains under investigation by the Los Angeles Police Department, South Traffic Division.
